Clio Disaster Relief for Alberta Law Firms

Written by Damien Riehl

Clio is reaching out with disaster assistance to law firms affected by the recent wildfires in Alberta.

This disaster hit close to home; several of Clio's staff live or have families in Alberta. We want to help.

If you are a lawyer that has been impacted by the recent fires, please take advantage of our disaster recovery program.

For both new and existing users, we are offering 30 days of free service to help deal with recovery, and have a special offer for users moving their practices to Clio and "the Cloud" as a result of this disaster. Our migrations team will give special priority to importing your files and getting you up and running quickly.

If you are a legal clinic offering help to those displaced or recovering from the Alberta wildfires, you are eligible for this offer too.

We know that these are difficult times for both lawyers and their clients affected by this disaster.

Effective local, legal assistance is necessary to help families recover.

Getting your law firm up and running quickly is our priority, so that your clients can be your first priority.

Please e-mail disaster.assistance@clio.com for more information.

Albertan lawyers, the Law Society of Alberta has a special e-bulletin with resources for firms affected by the wildfire.
If you are an Alberta resident looking for legal assistance, the Law Society of Alberta's Lawyer Referral service can help you find local counsel.
